CONCERT TO-NIGHT. An opportunity is afforded our citizens to-night, at Odd Fellows Hall, to hear the Italian Opera troupe in a selection of the gems of the Operas which they have been presenting for the last two weeks at the Theatre, and in two of the finest pieces of Sacred Music which have ever been composed-the Grand Duo from Stabert Mater, and have the opportunity of hearing to-night. Mad. DEVRIES is equalled by no singer who has ever visited our city since JENNY LIND; while the accessories of the Concert to-night are incomparably superior to those of the Lind Concerts. All the promineut singers of the troupe appear in their favorite s-lections, while the music of the perfect orchestra is stone a musical treat of the first excellence.

We refer to the advertisement in another column, confident that no one who has a spark of music in his soul will be able to stay away from Odd Fellows Hall to night. The tickets have been put at only ONF DOLLAR-no more than we are often called upon to pay for a ticket to the concerts of a single singer or musician. COMPLIMENTARY.

We, the undersigned, passengers of the Nashville and Memphis Mail Packet, John Simpson, take this mode of tendering our thanks and expressing our feelings of gratitude to Capt. James Davis, her courteous commander, and to his worthy and gallant Secretaries, Messrs, Mat. Martin and Frank Gracey, who, for their kindness and attention to their passengers from the "City of Bluffs," have merited their warmest regards and remembrance. To the world of travel we commend the John Simpson, as being one of the finest of crafts, complete in every department, and as safe and quick as any of her class that cleaves the waters of the beautiful Cumberland. however small, having the absurd idea that there is a social degradation in the act. The most trifling as well as weighty packages must be sent to them, no matter how much to the inconvenience of others. This arises from a low kind of pride. There is a pride that is higher; that arises from a consciousnyss of there being something in the individual not to be effected by such accidents-worth and weight of character. This latter pride was exhibited by the American son of Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte. While he was in College at Cambridge, he was one day carrying to his room a broom he had just purchased, when he met a friend, who, noticing the broom, with surprise exclaimed, "Why did you not have it sent home?"

"I am not assamed to carry anything which belongs to me," was the very sensible reply of young

Very different pride was this from that of a young lady whom we know, who always gave her mother all the bundles to carry when they went out to-gether, because she thought it vulgar to be seen with one herself. Marrier.-On Sunday morning the 4th instant, by Rev. J. B Forguson, Mr. James Graham to MISS ELIZABETH K. TURSBULL, all of this city.

Compliment to Mrs. Parington from a high source.

Dr. O. W. Holmes in the course of his closing lecture in New York, on Modern English Poets, on Friday evening, referring to Hood said, "There is plenty of wit in the poetthe Grand Prayer of Moses in Egypt.

We think we can safely assure the citizens of Nashville that no musical entertainment has ever been offered them of equal merit with the one they the conversation with the continue of hearing to night. Mad. ton's conversation with the omnibus driver has more feeling and humor than ever he uttered. As laughing and weeping are closely allied, so pathos and humor are akin."

"How do you do, dear?" said Mrs. Partington, smilingly, shaking hands with Burbank, in the Dock-square counting, has be held out his five dexter digits towards her. "Fare ma'am," said he, in reply to her inquiry. "Well, I'm shure I'm glad of it; and how are the folks at home?" "Fare ma'am," continued he, still extending his hand. The pas-sengers were interested. "How do you like Boston?" scream-ed she, as the omnibus rattled over the stones. "Fare ma'am," shouted be without drawing back his hand: "I want you to pay me for your ride," "the," nurmaned size, "I thought it was some one that knowed me," and runmaged down in the bottom of her ridicule for a ticket, finding at last five copper cents tied up in the corner of her handkerchief—the "last war" handkerchief, with the stars and stripes involved in it, and the action of the Constitution and Guerriere stamped upon it. But the smile she had given him at first was not withdrawn—there was no allowance made for mistakes at the counter—and he went out with a lighter heart and a heavier pocket to catch t'other

[From Harper's Magazine.] "Mrs Partington" is an original caestion; and the true one can be detected from her numerous imitalors in a moment. The Rev. Sydney Smith first introduced this notable hady to the public, but the Boston Post is the only journal which records her original sayings and doings, which are only excelled—if indeed they are excelled at all—by Mrs. Lavinia Ramsbottom, the illustrious protege of the witty Theodore Hook. Here are two of her late "utterances" which are quite as good in their way as anything in Madaine Ramsbottom's letters from Rome or Paris: "Diseases is very various—very. The Doctor tells me that poor old Mrs. Haze has got two buckles upon her lungs! It's dreadful to think of—'tis really. The diseases mitage of the lungs,' another of brown creatures, here they tell us of the 'elementary canal' being out of order, and there about the 'tear of the throat,' here we hear of 'newrology in the head, and there of an 'embargo' in the back. On one side of us we hear of a man getting killed by getting a piece of beef in his 'sarcofagus,' and there ano her hills himself by diskivering his jocular vein.' Things change so that I don't know how to subscribe for anything now-a-days. New names and 'rostrums' take the place of the old, and I might as well throw my old yerb bag away." For sale by may 30 W.
